Pharmacy students achieve advanced places in Universities Students Research Competition.

Students from Al Ain University have achieved advanced positions in the university student research competition organized by Abu Dhabi University in its 10th edition. This competition is considered the largest student research competition in the Arab world and aims to enhance the potential and initiatives of scientific research among university students.

Pharmacy students from the Abu Dhabi campus achieved second place in the pharmaceutical sciences category. Zainab Abdulnasser, Danah Albek and Nour Dabbagh, under the supervision of Dr. Rose Ghemrawi and Ms. Aya Al Qassem, secured this achievement. Additionally, Ayah Ismail and Razan Mubarak, under the supervision of Dr. Zelal Jaber, obtained third place in the competition.

Prof. Mohammad Ghattas, Deputy Dean of the College of Pharmacy (Abu Dhabi campus), said, "We are delighted that students from Al Ain University have achieved advanced positions in the University Student Research Competition. This accomplishment is a testament to the skills and knowledge our students have acquired, enabling them to work on scientific research that has garnered advanced rankings among other studies, under the supervision of a distinguished group of professors." He added, "We are committed to encouraging students to participate in competitions that support scientific research, aiming to enhance their knowledge and equip a generation with the necessary thinking skills for scientific inquiry, thus enhancing their contributions to society and driving knowledge-based development."
